Description
 Located in the stunning Soledad Canyon area is this 3600 sq. ft., 3BR, 5+ BA, 5 car garage home. Approaching the beautiful xeriscaped front courtyard, you notice to the left of the house is a casita, convenient for your in-laws, guests, or college student. Immediately, you notice the exquisite detail that went into building this home. The entire house is tiled, and every bedroom and both living areas have nice ceiling fans and handsome blinds. From the master BR, the kitchen, and the great room, a majestic mountain view is visible. The great room has wood beams, a Southwestern style wood stove, and French doors. The kitchen has everything you need to have the culinary experience of your life: beautiful countertops, island w/ prep-sink, gas range stove-top w/ pot-filler faucet, double oven, huge pantry, custom-built cabinetry, breakfast bar, and eating area. The back yard has two hot tubs, a large covered patio, a pergola, and grilling area w/ wet bar. Come see this home today!

One thing that sets us apart is the importance we put on descriptions. In the limited amount of space allowed here, we do our best to provide a summary of the best features and amenities offered by a particular house. Every house is different, so we take the time to write a different description for each, giving the buyer reasons to want that particular home.

On the Details tab, we give buyers the option to go to the Address Website, which is on Realtor.com.

Buyers can view the virtual tour, we personally made for this house. This tour consists of up to 50 of the best professionally taken photographs of the interior and exterior, along with descriptions describing all the details and amenities a buyer wants to know about before they decide to look at the house in person.

We make available a printable version of all of the information included in each tab in a house's Featured Listings page.

More Info redirects a buyer to our contact information page, so that they may call us with any inquiries they may have.

We provide a buyer with a home's basic information. These are some of the first things buyers look for throughout their search for a new home.

One of the most convenient features of our Featured Listings page is the Google-powered map. This map allows motivated buyers to get up and go directly to see the house they are viewing online in person. Once buyers have taken the initiative to do this, they are only one step away from calling us and arranging an appointment for a showing of the interior. Showings create offers, and offers create sales, and we make it very easy for a buyer to take the first steps in the buying process.
